

Digital Systemic Elsitа-V

The Elsitа is a soviet analog machine produced from 1989 until 1991, when RMIF went bankrupt. Although being released in a pretty late period, the Elsitа was built following old standards from the mid 70's/early 80's : fully analog (as you can see on the picture), trigger-only, with big knobs.

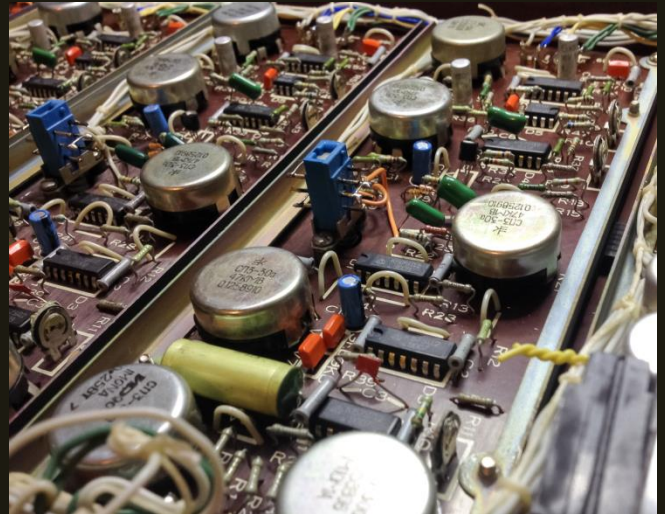

Photo by driessen-music.de

The Elsitа has 4 channels, which are not perfectly identical, at least on my model. It sounds more like a A/B/A/B disposition (As the colors suggest actually), but they all have the same parameters.

Channel translation :

